PAGE AND PARAGRAPH NUMBERING

The pages and paragraphs of this handbook are numbered in straight sequence. When it is necessary to insert new pages or paragraphs the new pages or paragraphs will be numbered by a decimal system. For example, a paragraph (or page) to be inserted between 82 and 83 will ordinarily be designated 82.5, instead of 82a or 82.1. This permits further insertions on either side of 82.5.

KEEP THIS HANDBOOK UP TO DATE

It is extremely important that you keep this handbook complete and up to date. Remove and insert pages promptly when prescribed by handbook amendments. There is no secret of writing, indexing, or other action that can undo or offset the failure of handbook users to keep their handbook current. The only good handbook is a complete and current handbook!
